Minister's Letter

Dear Friends

I've just about recovered from the jet lag caused by my trip to Pittsburgh, but the impressions of that trip remain strong...

- Arriving in the States the day after the Presidential Inauguration...
- Internal flights filled to capacity with people, particularly women, who had been joining marches all over the country...
- Concerns in the Churches about discrimination on the grounds of race or religion...
- A more subdued and uncertain air than last year...
- The supportive environment of Seminary and peer group...
- The daily worship services in the seminary chapel including several passionate sermons by African-American preachers... (I have to confess that I didn't go to the service where the congregation were encouraged to respond to the Word of God by participating in yoga moves – so you don't need to worry too much there!)

And of course there are the personal feelings that accompany this stage of the course...

- A sadness that this was the last teaching block of the DMin and the last time when our peer group will meet together (unless we all manage to complete our projects in time for graduation in Pittsburgh in 2018!) ...
- A sense of anticipation as I look forward to an elective – 10 days in the Netherlands at the beginning of March looking at how congregations there are responding to secularism...
- Gratitude to the Church of Scotland for a generous study leave scheme that not only allows ministers two weeks a year but allows that leave to be accumulated to enable us to participate in a programme like this...
- Appreciation of the willingness of Peter Graham to cover for me so that I know that everything is well taken care of in my absence...
- The interest which many of you have shown in the programme...
- And most of all a sense of blessing and a renewal of calling in the return to academic study after twenty years in ministry...

And then of course there is still the ongoing challenge of ascertaining where the future of that ministry lies...

We live in turbulent times. Sometimes the uncertainties are the big issues over which we seem to have little or no control. At other times the uncertainties we experience come much closer to home and faith is sorely tested. And I'm reminded of the question posed by the BB hymn, "Will your anchor hold in the storms of life?" And the answer given by the chorus of that hymn:

*We have an anchor that keeps the soul
Steadfast and sure while the billows roll
Fastened to the rock which cannot move
Grounded firm and deep in the Saviour's love.*

It is my prayer that you may know the blessing of God's love in the midst of the storms that you encounter in this life.

With warmest wishes,

Alison I Swindells
Parish Minister

Lent Studies 2017

This year's series of four discussions will be on the Gospel of Mark. It will be loosely based on the book by Rowan Williams, the former Archbishop of Canterbury, called "Meeting God in Mark", but it is hoped that the discussion will range widely.

The meetings start on Monday 13th March at 7.30pm in the Braid Room, and continue on the three subsequent Mondays, 20th and 27th March and 3rd April. The Adult Education Committee will welcome you to any or all of these meetings, which will be led by different members of the congregation. Tea and coffee will be available from 7.15pm. Each session will last for around an hour.

"Rowan Williams at his simplest is a joy" said one reviewer of the book, which besides questions has reflections to stimulate discussion. There is no requirement to have a copy, nor indeed to have read it before coming to a meeting, but copies have been available for purchase on Sunday mornings, and will be available again on Sunday 12th March.

The book, which costs £8.99, is also available at the Cornerstone Bookshop next to St John's Church in Lothian Road.

Greenbank Book of Remembrance

Thanks to a generous donation we have been able to place in the Church a Book of Remembrance. The background for the vellum pages was designed by one of our own young people, Clare Sommerville. If you know of someone who lived in Greenbank or was a member here before they died and would like to place a page in the Book in memory of them, then please contact the Church Office for further information.

Christian Aid Week

14–20 May 2017

For Christian Aid, 2016 was one of the most challenging years in recent history. However, the organisation is happy to report that it responded to the challenges, with the help of its many supporters. In 2017, it will continue vital partnership work in close to 40 countries around the world. The 60th anniversary of Christian Aid Week will be celebrated alongside some fantastic new events. This is where you come in once again. Christian Aid week may seem far away, but preparation work is starting now and we need a team of collectors to cover all the streets in the parish. Thanks again to those who collected last year and I hope that most of you will also collect this year. I shall be contacting you over the next few weeks but for anyone who is thinking of 'retiring' as a collector and/or has already booked a holiday for the above dates I would be very grateful if you could "ask a friend" to take over your houses, preferably before I speak to you!

I know that I will need some new collectors to share the load. Please contact me if you would like to play a part in this important and rewarding mission, which has always been strong in Greenbank. It takes up to about an hour to deliver the envelopes and about 3 hours collection time through the week. Most people do this over 2 early evening slots and sometimes couples take on an area together. A Collector's Guide with plenty of useful information is provided to each helper.

Last year's total for the house-to-house collection amounted to £4,265. Gift Aid, although slightly less than the previous year, still helped to gain extra income over and above what was put into the envelopes. Again, I am very grateful for all the support and help you gave me. I am, as always, looking for administrative help nearer the time to assist me in preparing the bags/envelopes for collectors and also for counting up on the 21st May, after the main service.

DATE FOR YOUR DIARY: Please note that the next date for Fresh Start collection is on 19th March at the Sunday Service (table in Main Hall).

There is a continuing need for good quality items for the starter pack scheme, and cleaning things such as jay cloths, dish cloths and yellow dusters are always useful. See the panel for a full list of household goods wanted. Thank you to everyone who donated items in good condition or indeed new items, last month.

Many thanks to those who have been donating good quality, and sometimes new, household items.

For more information about Fresh Start, pick up a leaflet from me, see www.fresh-startweb.org.uk or telephone 476 7741.

The Guild

We had an excellent evening in February with Margaret Boe who showed us her amazing quilts, colourful, fun and inspiring, and told us about the making of them with great good humour.

We will start March with the World Day of Prayer service on Friday the 3rd. The Guild will serve coffee from 10.30am and lead the service at 11am. All are very welcome to this service, prepared by the women of the Philippines.

On 7th March Andrew Gibb gives a talk entitled No Stranger to these Courts – which sounds intriguing, and we finish our programme of meetings on 21st March with the ABM and a talk by Maggie Shearer on the Ferrywell Youth Project.

ECO news from Greenbank Pre School

Greenbank Pre School flies an ECO flag, awarded for meeting ECO targets. The staff, parents and children continue to develop their ECO policies, under the leadership of Mrs Ahn Uhm and Mrs Kyra Okoth.

The children appreciated the opportunity to contribute to the Greenbank Reverse Advent Calendar and continue to collect for the food bank and used clothing bin – which is just inside the west door. This term they will also be collecting baby clothes.

Parents turned out in March 2016 for a BIG DIG which saw the redevelopment of the garden – they made planters and a bug hotel and planted a willow arch. A second BIG DIG is planned this March to develop the use of planters to grow vegetables. We are also working to reduce paper and food waste and source more produce from local suppliers – when we cannot grow our own! We use ECO friendly cleaning materials.

Greenbank Pre School is a partner provider offering morning or afternoon places for 3–5 year olds. We currently have some afternoon spaces: further information and application forms can be found on our website: www.greenbankpreschool.org.uk

Joan Ritchie, Chair of the Management Committee

Friendship Club

Sadly, following the death of her husband Tam, Kathleen Dalyell will no longer be speaking to us on 8th March. We hope that Charlotte Fleming of the Scottish Wildlife Trust will give her talk on 'Operation Osprey', postponed from 16th October last year. On 15th March Kathleen has a seasonal choice of music for us to listen to, and we end our session with a talk on 'Sundials Old and New' by Alastair Hunter, a longtime member of Greenbank.

We then look forward to our Outing on Wednesday 10th May when we hope to see 'Sinbad the Sailor' as performed by the Purves Puppets in their delightful little Victorian Theatre in Biggar. There will be more information about this in next month's Connections, but please put the date in your diaries now.

Burns Supper

in aid of the YACHT Campaign

Saturday the 28th January decided to be truly dreich, however this didn't stop a full house of 100 guests attending the Greenbank Church Burns Supper in aid of the ongoing YACHT Campaign.

The evening commenced with a drinks reception before Niall Morrison piped everyone into dinner, and what a dinner it was! Chris and Rachel Rowley of Ballintaggart Farm cooked the most exquisite food with many people comparing it to a five star restaurant. We dined on home-cured salmon, gourmet haggis and delicious desserts, all served by our own enormously talented and capable young people from Young Church.

Before the meal Steven Chaffee showed us that he has acclimatised quickly by giving us a faultless Selkirk Grace.

Donald MacLeod addressed the haggis with true verve and passion before Richard Dunbar executed a humorous and most thought-provoking Immortal Memory.

Kenny Htet-Khin toasted the lassies with panache and Charlotte Tucker graciously replied on behalf of the gals!

Music interspersed the speeches with performances. Lindsay Kennedy sang

Ae Fond Kiss beautifully. Tom Inglis sang and played the concertina in a moving Afton Water. The entertainment ended with the stunning voice and talent of Lorna Htet-Khin playing the clar-sach and singing

John Anderson, My Jo and Scots Wha Hae. The night concluded with a keenly contested auction to raise funds for the YACHT campaign, skilfully auctioneered by Malcolm Reid. Thanks are given to all those who kindly and generously donated prizes for the draw and auction items.

Thanks are also due to David Henderson who provided the wines and refreshments and to everyone who made it such a fun and memoorable evening. Over the evening £4,200 was raised for the YACHT Campaign.

Shall we do it all again next year?

World Day of Prayer

11am on Friday 3rd March 2017 at Greenbank Parish Church

On Friday 3rd March over 600 services will be held in Scotland on the theme of Am I being unfair to you? The Christian women of the Philippines wrote the service, based on the Bible passage Matthew 20 v 1-16, and it has been translated into 1,000 different languages and dialects to be used throughout the whole world on 3rd March.

This Day of Prayer is for everyone and there will be a service for the Morningside churches at Greenbank Parish Church. The service will be held in the Braid Room at 11.00am with coffee served from 10.30am in the Hermitage room. Everyone will be most welcome at the service.

Margaret Barrowman

“Before the Flood”

Greenbank's World Mission Team has been watching excerpts from this recently made film (September 2016). In it, actor Leonardo DiCaprio meets with scientists, activists and world leaders to discuss the dangers of climate change and possible solutions. It is a documentary offering crucial, current information, as well as a measure of hope. We would commend it. (Perhaps a congregational viewing can be organised.)

Christian Aid Event with Ian Rankin

Wednesday 19th April at 7.30pm
Fairmilehead Parish Church

Ian Rankin is perhaps one of the world's best known crime authors. His books have been translated into 22 languages and it's difficult to walk past a bar in Edinburgh without wondering if Rebus is lurking inside mulling over clues from his latest unsolved case.

To help understand how Ian Rankin moved from being a grape-picker to dominating the UK literary scene, come to our local Christian Aid Committee's latest "conversation" event, when Ian Rankin is interviewed by the entertaining Eleanor Updale.

The event will take place on Wednesday 19th April, at 7.30pm in Fairmilehead Parish Church. The vote of thanks will be given by Ian Murray MP. Tickets are £8 each, with all proceeds going to Christian Aid.

One World Shop Certificate of Achievement

Extract of email sent to Pam Jack:

“Congratulations!

We are delighted to be sending your annual One World Shop Certificate of Achievement which highlights the total value of Fair Trade products you have bought from us during 2016. Thanks a million to all of you for your continued support of the marginalised workers and farmers in developing countries that we trade with. Your contribution really makes a difference. Fairtrade Fortnight is just around the corner (27th February–12th March) and the theme is It's Time to Put Fairtrade in your Break Why not join us and thousands of campaigners, schools, businesses and places of worship across the UK and put on an event to do just that.”

There will be a One World Stall on Sunday 2nd April which will include Easter Eggs and other Easter items.

What are you taking up for Lent?

A few days after you receive this edition of Greenbank Connections we'll be in the season of the Christian year called Lent. This year, Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, is on 1st March. But what is Lent about?

Most of us will have heard people talking about what they are giving up for Lent – normally something they relish, like milk chocolate or a glass of wine, or something they really enjoy doing. But Lent isn't a killjoy thing that is all about taking the champagne bubbles out of life. No, we give up something we enjoy so that we can concentrate on God, on glorifying him, on enjoying him for ever and on finding out how enjoying God works in our lives. So it's about getting our priorities back in focus and clearing the dross out of our thoughts, words and deeds.

So if we are to give up something we really enjoy so that we can really enjoy God, how does that work? This brings us back to the second vow of Church membership: "I promise to be faithful in reading the Bible and in prayer." If we're really to enjoy God, then we have to spend, not the odd

5 minutes here and there, but quality time with him every day – listening to what he is saying to us through the Bible and sharing with him what's on our minds and in our hearts. And the more we discover about who God is and what he is like, the greater our enjoyment of him will be.

I've already suggested that Lent is about giving something enjoyable up so that we can take something more enjoyable up. It was John Bell of the Iona Community who took this idea further, saying that in Lent we need to move away from the "giving up" idea to the "taking up" idea. Taking up care and concern, not only for the huge international, national, political and social issues facing us, but for the people who are caught up in them and sometimes damaged by them. Taking up compassion so that care and concern is translated into action to make a different, better and more just and peaceful world and nation. Taking up working with others to achieve this different world.

So what are you giving up for Lent?... and, even more important, what are you taking up for Lent?

John Fraser
